Product Security Architect

We are looking for a highly skilled Product Security Architect to join our team at Tipalti. This role is pivotal in ensuring the security of our applications from inception to production and beyond. The ideal candidate will have a solid development background that has evolved into security expertise, enabling them to work closely with development teams to implement security best practices and develop protection mechanisms.

Why join Tipalti?

Tipalti is one of the world's fastest-growing fintech companies. We free finance professionals to lead by modernizing the entire payables operation. We are a well-funded, late-stage start-up backed by high-profile investors. Our 2021 Series F funding round raised $270 million, valuing us at over $8.3 billion. With total funding of just over $550 million, and with more than 3000 global customers, Tipalti is one of the most valuable private fintech companies in the world.

At Tipalti, we pride ourselves on our collaborative culture, the quality of our product and the capabilities of our people. Tipaltians are passionate about the work they do, and keen to get the job done. Tipalti offers competitive benefits, a flexible workplace, career coaching, and an environment where diverse individuals can thrive and make an impact. Our culture ensures everyone checks their egos at the door and stands ready to reach for success together.

In this role, you will be responsible for:

Collaborate closely with all Tipalti development teams to build and govern security from day one to production, following best practices.

Perform application security assessments, including architecture design reviews and threat modeling.

Provide secure software guidance and act as a business enabler to cross-functional teams, including product, engineering, etc.

Design, build, and implement best-in-class application security solutions.

Lead and promote security audits, vulnerability assessments and code reviews.

Develop software security guidance, including training material, best practices, secure coding checklists, and reusable code.

Validate ongoing compliance with policies and procedures in support of regulations.

Raise the overall security awareness for the Secure-SDLC and define training roadmaps based on needs.

Work with different entities in the company to ensure S-SDLC compliance with company rules and industry standards.

Review & manage security issues identified in products, analyze severity and risk, and provide recommendations for remediation.

Establish, manage, and lead a bug bounty program

About you

3+ years of security architectural experience, conducting threat modeling and design reviews of complex products - Must.

2+ years of experience in the development of SaaS applications - Advantage.

In-depth knowledge of security architectural considerations from an end-to-end security perspective.

Expertise in building and implementing security policies, serving as a single point of contact for security in all S-SDLC tasks, challenges, and requirements.

Understanding of the OWASP Top 10 application security risks and proficiency in addressing them.

Knowledge of cloud-native infrastructure architecture (containers, Kubernetes).

Solid knowledge of Cloud Security Architecture, particularly AWS and Azure.

Knowledge of microservice architecture, web technologies, and APIs.

Excellent communication skills, with the ability to communicate and present effectively to stakeholders at all levels, from developers to senior management.

Hands-on experience with at least 2 Application security tools such as SAST, API Security, DAST, WAF.

Our tech teams are the engine behind our business. Tipalti's tech ecosystem is extremely rich and we continually add new features to our products, ensuring that we respond to our clients' needs at scale. Our tech teams retain a fast-paced, start-up vibe that encourages innovation and critical thinking. At Tipalti, you'll have the opportunity to work with a diverse, global team of engineers, developers and product leaders who are collectively building the future of our best-in-class product suite as we transform financial operations for the future.
