Singular is the next-gen attribution and marketing analytics platform, giving marketers actionable insights from previously siloed data. By collecting, aggregating and normalizing upper-funnel campaign marketing data from thousands of channels and connecting it to lower-funnel attribution data, marketers can measure ROI from every touchpoint across all their activities and optimize to the most granular level. Singular has offices in San Francisco, Tel Aviv, Seoul, London and Bangalore. We have raised $50M from Norwest Venture Partners, General Catalyst, Thomvest Ventures, Method Capital, Translink Capital, DCM and Telstra Ventures. Our business and team are scaling, and we are looking for ambitious, eager, creative and innovative individuals to join us and help us reach the next level. We have great customers, including leading companies like Lyft, Warner Bros, Airbnb, Yelp, LinkedIn, Microsoft, Zynga, Match and Twitter. Now is the time to join Singular! We have an amazing product, a strong team and happy customers in a growing market, offering a unique opportunity for an engineer to join our top-notch teams to build new products!

About The Role

We are looking for a top-notch Backend Engineer who will work on our next first-to-market products and tackle highly challenging problems by building innovative, scalable solutions. This position will be based in our R&D office in the heart of Tel-Aviv.

In this role, you'll be responsible for building scalable pipelines handling billions of events per day and building new customer-facing innovative products. We deeply encourage our engineers to develop a deep understanding of our industry and our customers and growth in their engineering skills. You will take part in our major projects and tackle complex problems in the realms of orchestrating a cost-effective and scalable architecture in our AWS stack. You will also have the chance to work in one of the most professional R&D teams in the startup community and grow professionally.

What you bring

The ideal candidate is a backend engineer that brings a rare mix of big-picture thinking, responsibility and hands-on execution.

Independent, responsible, fast learner, and enjoys working in a fast-paced, growth environment.

Highly Experienced in building scalable, high-performance, tested and monitored systems.

At least 5 years of hands-on experience with Python / Go / Java and backend frameworks (Django, Flask, etc).

Experience with AWS and large-scale environments (e.g. Dynamo, EMR, Kafka, Kubernetes, Druid, Snowflake) – a big plus
