Overview

Microsoft eCDN (enterprise content delivery network) solves the network congestion problem that occurs during large virtual events. Our eCDN forms a P2P mesh network over local networks which reduces the load by 95% and eliminates network issues. Companies like T-mobile, Nvidia, Visa and Coca-Cola use our tech for their biggest streaming events. We are looking for a senior software engineer to join us in our quest to make video delivery more distributed. You'll join a small team with the opportunity to greatly influence and make significant changes to our growing product.

We impact one of the most important products of Microsoft – Teams, used by 300M+ users around the globe. Our team enables successful streaming for the largest companies in the world during their most important virtual events.
